

As Big-Data Companies Come to Teaching, a Pioneer Issues a Warning – This article is about how a lot of the big data algorithms need to be funded by Universities so that the public knows more about them.

Big Data's Coming Of Age In Higher Education – Big data in higher education is important and we need to understand how it will be useful, what policy will take place, and the security of it.

Real Life Harms of Student Data – She gives examples of situations where data was either stolen, accessed, or given to the wrong people and why we should be worry about it.

19 Times Data Analysis Empowered Students and Schools – Gives a very detailed analysis of where exactly we can use data in the school system to improve it in almost every aspect.

As Big Data Comes to College, Officials Wrestle to Set New Ethical Norms – Discusses if students should have a say on how there data it being used, not just how we use the data.

This Chart Shows the Promise and Limits of 'Learning Analytics' – Speaks about the overall context of what data gathering on online course work could do to see what students respond to the best.